Part B - RESPONSE

Our review of your administrative remedy has been completed and your case has been dismissed in accordance with DCD 185-001. Specifically, your complaint is in regards to receiving your certified mail in a timely fashion. An investigation revealed that this item was submitted around the Thanksgiving holiday. Therefore, you have to reasonably expect the mail to be late during that holiday schedule. Furthermore, if a certified letter is signed for, it does not automatically go to the mailroom on that day, it may first go to the warehouse to be x-rayed for security examination. In all, proper mailroom procedures were indeed followed in accordance to DCD 250-1. It is advised that you talk to your Housing Unit Manager/Lieutenant about any additional questions regarding this matter. Your administrative remedy allegations are without merit.

Part A (Continued) - INMATE REQUEST

It comes to the fail I ~~send~~ Am to Receive it within the same day, (no later than the following.) Also my wife pays $5.75 each time, sending the mail certified. The first few times I had no trouble it receiving my ^(cert.) money mail in 2 days. BUT the last 2 times I ~~did~~ not receive it until 7 days later. I had $25.00 sent out Nov. 9 2012 did not receive it until Nov 16, 2012 then $75.00 was sent Nov 23, 2012 I did not receive it until Nov 30, 2012. This is truly unreasonable and needs to be addressed ASAP. The reason for getting my money sent certified is so I will not go through the hassle of receiving my money late. my wife is paying a fee ^($5.75) with ~~which~~ which I am supposed to receive my ^{mail} in a timely fashion and I am not. And when she calls to see where it is at and why I have not received my mail ^(mailroom) they lie and say they do not see it and then will send it to me within that same day. I expect for $7.50 to be refunded to me or my wife and to receive my mail in the way I supposed to receive it by law. This falls under Federal Tampering with the mail which is against the law!!
